Why TruRecruit?

- Independently certified for repeatable quality
- Backed by 25 years of recruiting experience
- Built on leading-edge technology
- Documented process
- Repeatable results

In the past, most staffing firms were viewed as interchangeable. Companies simply engaged a handful of firms, distributed their job requirements to each firm, and waited for the deluge of resumes. Some resumes were good, some of them were not. Some firms began as reliable vendors only to become inconsistent over time. Problems abound. But now, with TruRecruit, these issues are a thing of the past.

TruRecruit is ATR's ISO certified, end-to-end, recruiting methodology. Companies can now hire with confidence utilizing TruRecruit's repeatable quality processes. Managers no longer have to wonder about the quality of their candidates. Quality is built in to TruRecruit. Managers no longer need to worry about speed of delivery. Because TruRecruit is a highly repeatable and thoroughly documented set of procedures that results in quick turnaround times and qualified placements.
